

STUDENT Levels

1

Self-taught

Believes he can learn shooting on his own by practicing with ammo, gun, and a range without formal classes.

2

Course student

Recognizes the importance of taking a course to learn fighting skills. Doesn't understand the need for consistent practice and training to achieve proficiency, just as in martial arts.

3

Who train

The level 3 student understand the need to train, but lacks a method to do so.

4

Who train with method

Recognize the importance of having a method, saving time and money; do not rely on luck or attempt to learn on their own, instead seeking the guidance of skilled instructors and other experts in the field. They are committed to training consistently and refining their skills to achieve their desired outcomes.
